Annual Danish Casting Games along with a Lunch!

Saturday, February 22, 2020 • 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM
Gilbert's McQueen Park

Located on... McQueen Road between Guadalupe and Elliot. Look for us on the west side of the pond that’s directly behind the community center. Use the McQueen Road entrance and parking lot.

Cost: Free

Eligibility: DFC & Project Healing Waters
Host: Gary Hitterman • 1Bighand@excite.com
Please, RSVP in advance and include "Danish Games" in the subject line.

The Danish Casting Games is a longtime club favorite featuring a series of fly casting obstacle that are set up similar to a miniature golf course. Each game promises to challenge veteran fly casters, but is also a great teaching tool for new fly anglers. IFFF Certified Casting instructors will be available to help casters complete each game and explain how they relate to real-life fishing situations. Members are welcome to participate competitively or non-competitively—it’s all about having a good time.

Event Highlights:
• Beginning, intermediate and advanced fly casters welcome
• Meet members from other fly fishing organizations
• Free lunch provided. Please bring a side to share if you are so inclined.

Items to bring:
• Sunglasses/eyeglasses • Hat • Sunscreen • Drinking water
• Fly rod/reel/line/leader (loaner equipment available upon request)
Our Annual Banquet will be held Wednesday, February 12, 2020
Knights of Columbus Hall • 644 E. Chandler Blvd. • Chandler, AZ

As you are probably aware, the annual banquet is our opportunity to raise money to support the ongoing operations of the Desert Fly Casters. The money brought in by the raffle allows us to:

1) Support Arizona Game and Fish to enhance Blue Ribbon streams (Lower Canyon Creek in the Tonto National Forest and Silver Creek near Show Low) by providing funding and manpower.
2) Provide funding to the White Mountains Lake Foundation—an organization focused on conservation and improving the fishing in Arizona's White Mountains.
3) Support Casting for Recovery (a Women's Breast Cancer survivor group) by providing "pond buddies" and funding.
4) Support Project Healing Waters by providing disable veterans by funding outings, purchasing equipment and providing support volunteers.
5) Conduct free classes for fly casting, fly tying and rod building.
6) Provide training and support for Boy Scouts Fly Fishing Merit badge.
7) Yearly support at fishing expos and stores for education of fly fishing with emphasis on bringing new people into the sport.
8) Yearly classes for fly casting, fly tying and rod building
9) Monthly meetings with guest speakers
10) …and outings for our club members!

While there are still some very generous donations made by members of the fly fishing business community, in all honesty many companies that used to donate have either stopped altogether or have reduced their contributions by a significant amount.

I'm hoping that you can help us close the gap. If you own a business, please consider donating some services or products. If you are good friends with a business owner, please ask them to donate a service or a product. As an individual, perhaps you would consider donating a craft item, a wine basket, a box of hand tied flies, that extra fishing vest you have never used etc. etc.

Please catch me, Frank Schettino, DFC Pres. at: sketno1026@hotmail.com for more information on how to donate or for our charitable contribution letter (we are a 501. C3 corporation, so donations are tax deductible)

Wayne "Doc" Nickel attracted friends like a magnet. Many a new Desert Fly Caster member was first welcomed by Doc at a meeting or at an outing. Doc was friendly, open, and warm. Doc encouraged people to not be up tight, and to relax. Doc would introduce the new members to other members who would also become friends.

Doc was a hero to many, he lived life to the fullest, and seemed to be having a great time doing it. I don't think he was one of the original charter members of the club, but Doc was an early member of the club. The Rocky Point outing got started after the club had been going for 6-8 years. Doc hosted the Rocky Point outing for over 30 years. I have hosted the RP outing several times, and Doc has always been supportive.

I have used Doc as a sounding board for many ideas on how to improve the RP experience. Doc was The Rocky Point Guy for many years, and when I go to RP people always ask. "How is Doc?" "Did Doc come down this trip?"

Doc was a free spirit, and on several occasions wore a thong. He had a bolt pierced through his navel. Doc loved to shock people but in a good way. He would share ideas, food, and drink. I don't Doc ever steered me wrong on anything to eat or drink. Doc had a saying, "That was a mouth orgasm!" Let's raise the chalice with good red wine and remember a good friend!

I know for certain that we never lose the people we love, even to death. They continue to participate in every act, thought and decision we make.

Their love leaves an indelible imprint in our memories.

We find comfort in knowing that our lives have been enriched by having shared their love

When I was a kid, the common carp was certainly considered a trash fish. They have a tendency to root around in the vegetation for plant material or aquatic insects. This can create localized muddy water conditions, removal of beneficial plant material, and can be a direct competition to more desirable sport fish for available aquatic insects.

Carp are found in Asia and Europe and were introduced to the United States from Europe well over a century ago. They are now found in much of the United States. Most often they inhabit waters that are warmer and of poorer quality than trout will tolerate.

Although they are not commonly eaten, they have taken on a bit of resurgence in popularity with anglers, especially fly fishers. In the Great Lakes, which have a variety of valued sport fish, there are also areas of the lakes that common carp can be targeted effectively at certain times of the year.

Bonefish are highly prized by fly fishers on the saltwater flats in the southeastern part of the country and other destinations around the world. Common carp utilize freshwater flats in large lakes and provide a much less expensive opportunity to stalk these fish under similar conditions as bonefish in saltwater.

Carp are notoriously sensitive to poorly placed casts and will bolt at the sight of a misplaced fly line that lands too close to a feeding fish. Anglers generally cast well in front of the approaching fish to minimize the chance of spooking it. Once the fish nears the fly that has hopefully settled quietly on the bottom, the angler will often move it slightly to tempt a carp to come over to investigate and inhale the offering.

Grass carp or white amur have also been introduced to the United States and are common in the canals in the Valley and in many of the Community Fishing Program lakes around the state including the Green Valley Lakes in Payson. They have been introduced for the primary purpose of effective weed control in the canals and these small lakes.

They reduce the need for chemical treatment of the water to control aquatic vegetation. The town of Payson purchases grass carp from time to time to replenish the population in the Green Valley lakes. There is a 30 inch minimum size restriction and a daily limit of one fish. Grass carp, like the common carp as introduced species must be managed in their distribution.

In the Green Valley Lakes there are grates between the three lakes as well as fencing below lake 3. The grates between the lakes are in place to assure that each lake has the prescribed number of grass carp to work on the aquatic vegetation in each lake. The fencing below lake 3 is to keep any from escaping and accidentally getting transported into the East Verde River where they are not intended and could compete with native species.

Grass carp are also possible to catch, but are even more challenging than the common carp as their diet is primarily plant based. I had my biggest “catch” in lake 2 thanks to a grass carp. I was fishing for trout with an indicator and my normal wet fly rig when the indicator dipped below the surface.
I set the hook, expecting a trout when a grass carp well over thirty inches long made four jumps completely out of the water in the first fifty feet of its run. In no time at all my fly line was gone and I was well into my backing. That had never happened to me before. I also only had a 5x tippet so the fish really was in complete control of where he wanted to go. I managed to recover my backing and fly line by walking half way around the lake as I followed the fish.

The net I had was useless for such a large fish. I succeeded in reeling the fish in three times to the point that my leader was out of the water and I could see the fly. Each time I did that during the twenty-five minute battle, the fish charged off again taking line as quickly as when I first hooked it. Finally, the fish ran along the jagged rocks near the little boat ramp on lake 2 and the line went slack.

What a thrill! We both won. I had no way to safely land and release this fish with my little net, and was quite happy to have him swim off under full power on his own. I have tried occasionally for grass carp under clearer water conditions in the past, and always been unsuccessful. Either I have made an imperfect cast, or my offering was not of interest. Under the muddy water conditions, it is possible that my fly was just sucked in with the plant material the fish was actually more interested in eating. A friend does well with them during the summer and clearer water conditions imitating the willow blossoms that fall in the water under the trees.

Carp can be a lot of fun to catch, but must be managed carefully as their unintended presence in waters with fragile populations of native or desirable introduced sport fish could be extremely harmful.

There are several DFC members that appreciate the challenge of bringing these fish to the fly and love the fight that they provide on a fly rod. If you get a chance to join in on one of these DFC carp excursions to one of the Valley lakes or canals, I suggest you take advantage of the expertise offered in fly selection and technique. You'll have a blast if you hook into one!

Receives Arizona Game and Fish Commission Award

Payson Roundup Newspaper fly fishing “Life on the Fly” columnist Dr. Jim Strogen, Payson, received the Arizona Game and Fish Department’s 2019 Educator of the Year Award from AZGF Commissioner Jim Zieler on Saturday, January 25 during the annual AZGF Commission Awards Banquet in Phoenix. Jim was honored for his many years of providing fly fishing and conservation education classes for elementary, middle school and adult classes held throughout the year. His students catch Fish! He and his middle school and elementary students have helped build fish structures in the Green Valley Park lakes. His frequent articles in the Roundup and in fly fishing club newsletters prove very popular with readers and are an extension of his teaching philosophy. Those articles share methods, techniques, stream approach techniques, and some “bugs” expertise for broad angler benefit. His conservation efforts in support of area and state rivers, streams and lakes are also well known to members of the Desert Fly Casters, Payson Flycasters, the local community, local Trout Unlimited Chapters, and the angling community statewide. We Congratulate Jim on the well-earned recognition for his continuing efforts!

Where: Salt River east of Phoenix, downstream from Saguaro Lake, Phon D Sutton Access point.

Route to get there: Take US 60 (The Superstition Freeway) to Power Road, north. Power Road turns into Bush Highway and runs along the Salt River all the way to Saguaro Lake, but you will take a left at Phon D Sutton access point. Or, take US 60 to Ellsworth and go north over Usery Pass, which will take you to Salt River Recreation.

Trip description: This is a rafting trip from Phon D Sutton down to Granite Reef. Expected duration is 4-5 hours, could be quicker if the water flows are high, and could take longer if you stop and fish every likely looking spot.

When: Let’s meet at 8:00 a.m. We will need to shuttle some vehicles down to Granite Reef. Plan to start rafting at 9:00 a.m.

Equipment Requirements: Preferred craft would be a kick boat with both oars and fins. U-boat float tubes will work as well, but you may need to carry it over some shallower sections. Kayaks are fine also. Life preserver/flotation device is required by law and common sense. March is still cold, so you will probably want your waders. Some may want an anchor, just be careful and don’t anchor in swift currents. If this trip happens to be your first time using your kick boat or float tube, we strongly suggest that you take it out on some still waters prior to this trip so that you are comfortable with how your boat is assembled and how to move around. Moving water is too challenging for your first attempt at kick boating.

Safety: Wear your life jacket, or at least have it handy. Look downstream and scan for obstacles: large rocks, tree branches hanging over the water, shallow water, other boaters anchored etc. Plan your route. One useful tactic is to point your raft at upcoming obstacles (large rock, mid-river tree, island etc.) and row directly away from it. Re-orient your craft as you approach and pass the obstacle, and keep the nose pointed at the obstacle until you have completely cleared it. Bring plenty of water and snacks. Put your keys, phone and wallet in a water proof container. Stay close to your buddy. If using an anchor, bring a knife to cut the line if it gets lodged in the rocks.

Permits: A valid Tonto Pass is required. Plan on buying this before you arrive. They can be purchased at Big 5, Sportsman’s and other places. Pass can also be picked up at the Shell station on Power Road and McDonald. Must be paid in cash or debit card, as they may not take credit cards.

Fish: Bass - will be the main fish targeted with 9 - 16 inch fish being common place with larger fish being present in the river. Blue Gill/Trout - Smaller streamers can be very effective. Carp, Chub and Suckers - Not unknown to catch a few each trip and they can be very fun on a 5 weight.

Recommended Tackle: 5 or 6 weight rods. Floating, intermediate and sink tip lines should work. Bring strike indicators to dread drift flies with a floating line, 3X, 4X, 5X leaders and tippet. You can go heavier if you are just going to target bass.

Flies: Tan and white Clousers, and black wooly buggers should always work. Standard trout nymphs will work for the bluegill, trout and suckers.
